Office Action Summary

1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter, which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claim 2 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter, which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. There is no support in the original disclosure for chilling to "25⁰ F or less"

Correction is required.

4. Claims 5 and 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

There is no antecedent basis in claim 5 or in claim 12 for "the poultry" (line 3 of claims 5 and 12). Correction is required.

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 1-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over The Good Cook literature article.

The article is described in paragraph No. 3, Paper No. 032404. It would have been obvious to store the chicken parts under chilled conditions before slicing since chilling is a conventional storage preservation means for poultry. Finding the optimum time and temperature parameters (claims 2-4, 5, 7 and 12) would require nothing more than routine experimentation by one reasonably skilled in this art.

7. Claims 1-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Strong.

Applicant is referred to the reasoning set forth in paragraph No. 4, Paper No. 032404. Also, see the last sentence in paragraph No. 6 above.

8. Applicant's arguments filed July 9, 2004 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The one hour time period used for marinating the chicken in the literature article is clearly feasible on a commercial scale.

Further, applicant's contention, that chilling and marinating chicken pieces is not disclosed in Strong, is without merit. Strong (column 5, lines 1-5) discloses initially packing chilled chickens in ice and later marinating chicken pieces (column 5, lines 20 and 21).

9. The switch from 35 USC 102 to 35 USC 103 in the rejection of claim 1 is not a new ground of rejection. See In re Jacobson, 160 USPQ 795 and Ex parte Hill, 169 USPQ 437).

10. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
